We are looking for passionate math/science undergraduate students (enrolled for fall '20) to assist our teacher leaders in guiding K-12 teachers in STEM. As part of the teacher leader team, CSUCI students will work in pairs to create and teach hands-on lessons stemming from observable local phenomenon to a cohort of grade level specific teachers for 4 days . The institute will culminate on the 5th day with the teacher participants leading a STEM half-day event for k-8 students.
